Foreword

Another year of our high school careers has come and gone. To the Senior, there are memories of the years behind them and hopes of the future. To the Freshman, time brings to mind the idea that they have just started an entirely new period of their lives.

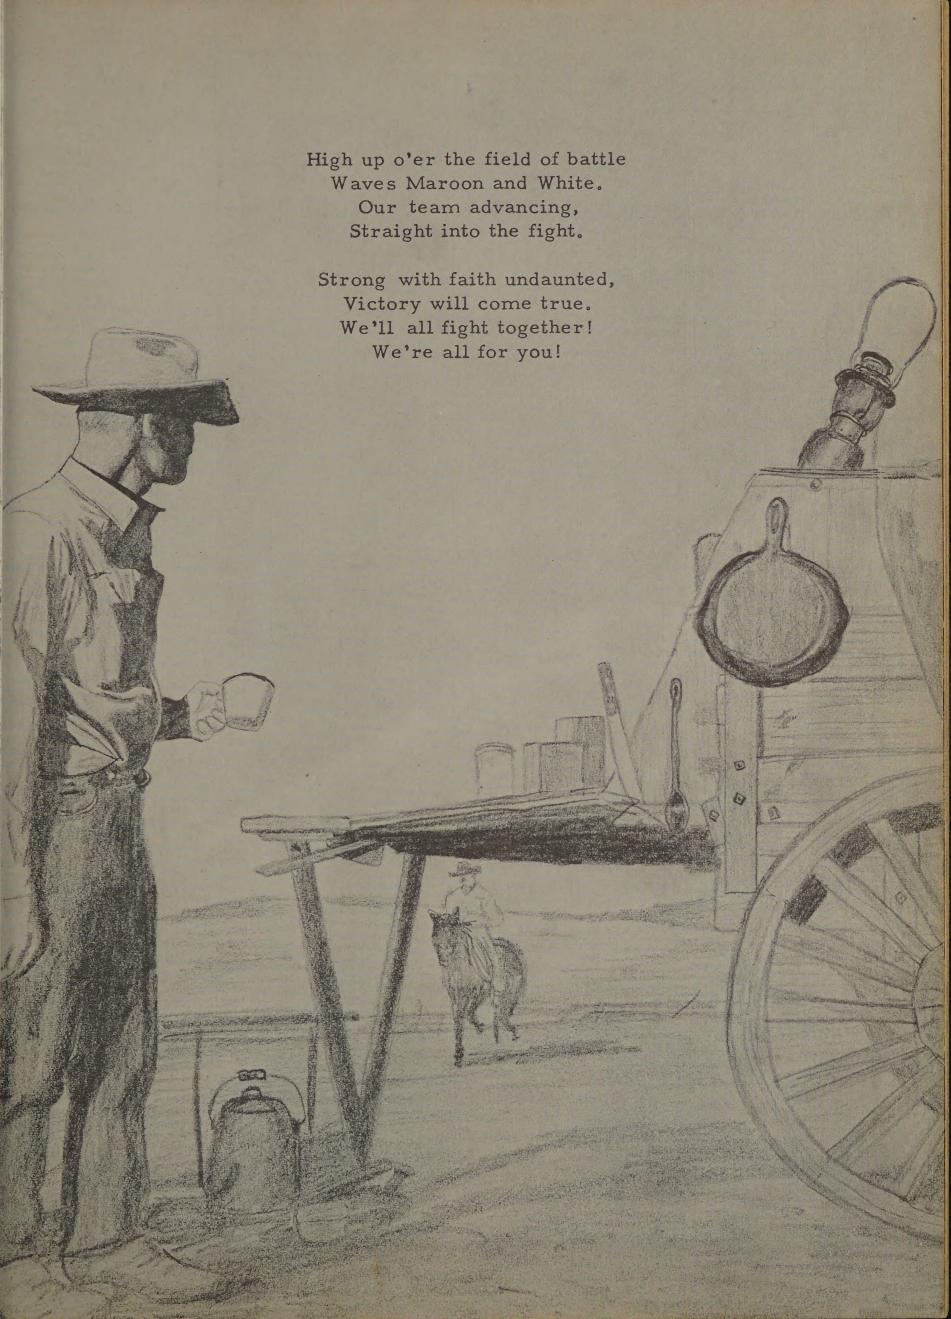

The years ahead in high school look bright and holds the promise of their future.

The hours spent in Mathis High, in studying, going to classes, the parties after the games, the time spent in talking with our classmates—all of these are things which none of us wants to forget.

In order that we might help you to remember these, the staff of the Galleon has tried to collect and preserve in this volume, the many memories we do not want time to dim.

In times of darkness the greatest need is light. The greatest need today of all boys and girls is education. In short, darkness, despair, and ignorance abound where there is no education. The foundation of our freedom is undoubtedly knowledge and wisdom brought together by the process of education. There are no finer boys and girls than those found in Mathis High School. The children throughout the entire system abound with enthusiasm for learning. They are courteous, respectful, and thoughtful of others. It is this type of boy and girlin this kind of school that makes my profession the most wonderful profession there is. The cost of operation of our schools should not be termed as an expense but as an investment in people. An investment in boys and girls that will pay rich dividends. It is my sincere wish that every boy and girl in Mathis High School will look upon his tenure as a challenge and an opportunity. These are the wonderful years. It is always a pleasure to have a small part in the molding of character among boys and girls. My congratulations to the annual staff and their sponsors in making this production a reality.

FLIGHT

One lone gray heron skims the sky
Tracing a wild uncharted flight
To realms unknown to me.
A flight in such unconscious symmetry
Such perfected movement, such melodic tranquility as to make me catch my breath and lean along his wings.
No searching here-just sureness and lazy swiftness.
No questions asked--no turning back
No bitterness--no regretting
Just quiet, unfaltering flight into destiny.
Oh, Small, gray heron pressed against the sky
My very soul goes with you there
And with your wings I find I, too, can fly.

Colleen a under of here or in his him him him him here What a great time Wens had in dear ola 4n US! But we Ttill Lave 5 more her just weeks to go. Good luck in James Pelm everything gon do. See you next year at A+ 2. well To a real We had som Good of Kuch to a suice

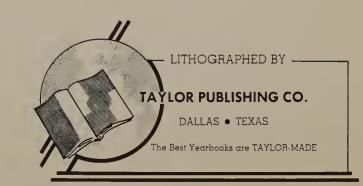

Wally wally -Garine no-good, sony Dt. heen a let of stiped, ugly, dumb, and fers faoling around the poorest speciman of with you all senion. a man that I have Lets of Luck John ever seen. But I just can't help but the you. Best of hick I have enjoyed benowing for and I hope that you me will alword Nementer me will always. Problem. Dest of buck to a swell guy. Arriver. Sam great and 3 mean it we have had quite a lote of fun even it we had on them what It do when 2 years & went of all won't them what It do attended and won't have you around B. Fool with gage and the the whole who whole have done done that I this of

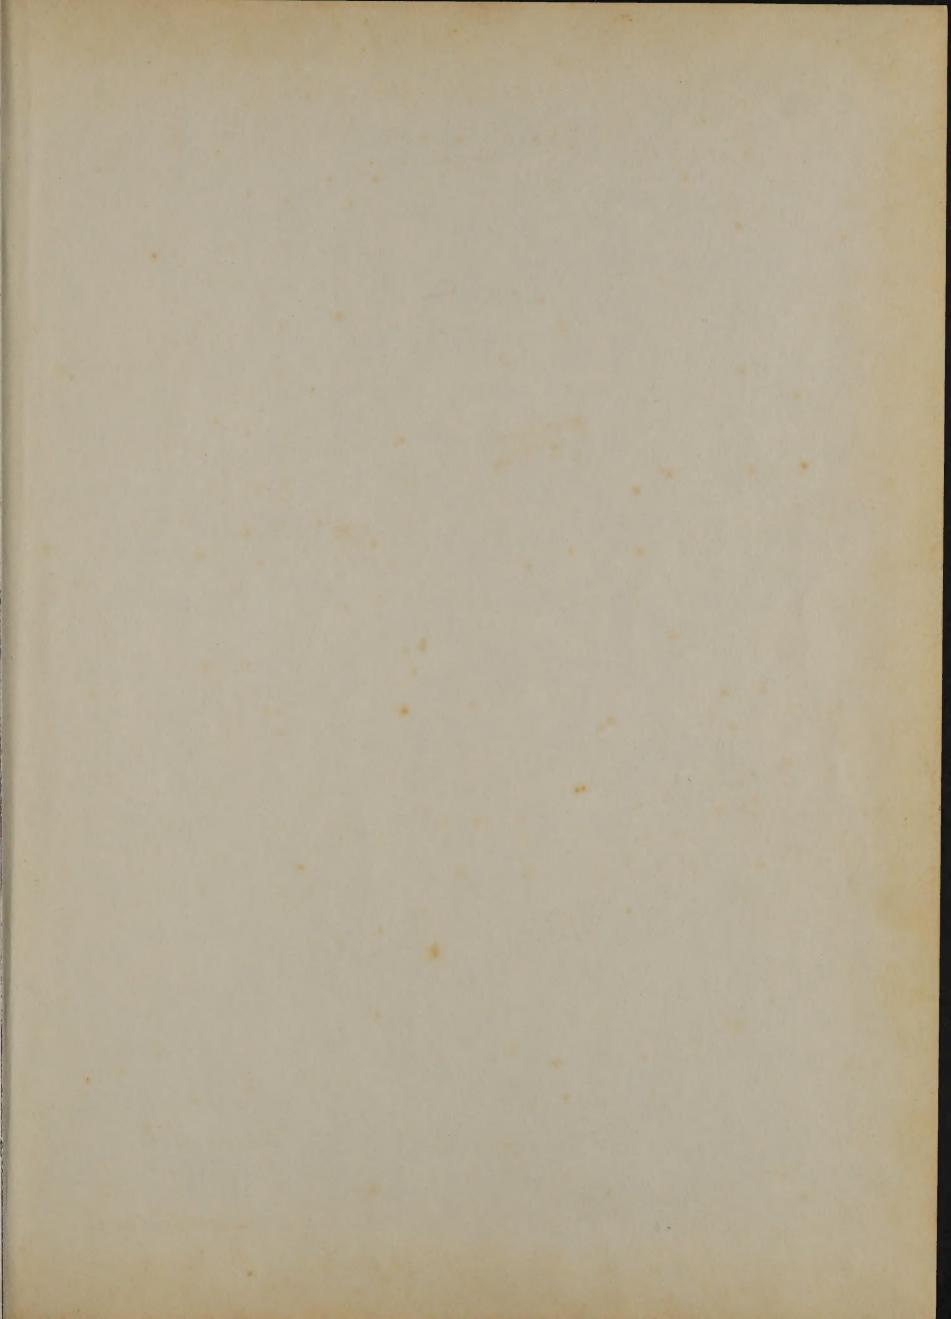

Strike Haahad ak me a read area Walley: have really enjoyed going to sekool with you your a wonderful Sperson and hope you always have the best of lick and lots of happiness. June Eight of the standard of the s dans of the state of the state

Wallis -Not having you in highschool next year will not be the some. This year year will not be the same. This year has been great. I truly consider it an honor to be asked as your date to the promethis year. Football season would not have been complete without a wonderful guard like you to knock there heads together. I have really enjayed going with you, and to me you are the nicest boy of known. Dood luck in callege, and don't faget me.
